Pupils say hello to an extra special visitor LOOK WHO CAME TO SCHOOL TODAY

THERE was an air of excitement in two Swindon Schools last Friday as pupils got ready to meet Gordon Brown.

The PM visited Isambard Community School, in Redhouse, to officially open it and hundreds of pupils clapped and cheered as he unveiled the official plaque.

Among them were Becky Heyes and Jordan McKenzie who were the only people given a one-on-one interview with Mr Brown.

They spent the morning going around with the press pack and took photos and a video of the visit.

After a tour of the facilities he rushed to hop on a train to his next appointment, and during the journey he took some time out of his busy schedule to answer questions from members of the Wootton Bassett School Film Club.

They also gave him a gift of three DVDs – urban flick Bullet Boy, the Christmas classic It's A Wonderful Life and comedy The Full Monty.

The Student Adver went out to meet all of the pupils to chat with them about their experiences and to find out what they thought of the Prime Minister.

Turn inside to find out what they thought.

We are holding a meeting at Greendown School on February 3 to explain more about how you can get involved in the Student Adver. Everyone is welcome – log on to swindonadvertiser.co.uk/sa to find out more.
